IRS Circular 230 disclosure: VanEck does not provide legal, tax or accounting advice. The majority, and possibly all, of the dividend distributions will be paid out of net investment income earned by the Funds. A portion of these distributions may come from net short-term or long-term realized capital gains or return of capital.

The final tax treatment of these dividends will be reported to shareholders on their 1099-DIV form, which are mailed after the close of each fiscal year. The amount of dividends paid by each ETF may vary from time to time. Past amounts of dividends are no guarantee of future dividend payment amounts.

Investing involves substantial risk and high volatility, including possible loss of principal. An investor should consider the investment objective, risks, and charges and expenses of the VanEck ETFs carefully before investing. Bonds and bond funds will decrease in value as interest rates rise. Please read the prospectus and summary prospectus carefully before investing.
